Books

The 21st Century Mentor's Handbook

This text written by Paula Rutherford cross-references Why Didn't I Learn This in College? and Instruction for All Students. It provides resources to promote the growth of new teachers, including a mentoring calendar, needs assessments, goal-setting and reflection tools, instructional design templates, guidelines for observation and coaching, and field-tested ways to deal with the potential challenges and concerns of novice teachers. Put one in the hands of each of your mentors.

Why Didn't I Learn This in College?

This bestseller pulls together everything a new teacher needs to know in one source. It is based on the constructs that the best management program is a good instructional program, and that if student learning is the goal, teachers must shift focus from control and compliance to creating positive and productive learning-centered environments. Many districts provide a copy of this text for each of their mentors and each of their new teachers.

Instruction for All Students

The book includes resources that support teachers in their effort to be more skillful at planning in a standards-based environment and providing rigorous learning experiences for students. This is the perfect book for experienced teachers new to the district.

DVDs

The DVD collection features our best-selling Collegial Conversations which includes coaching conferences and interviews as four accomplished mentors work with K-12 novice teachers. Another highlight is the 2018 Summer Edition of Points to Ponder, multiple five-minute collections of words of wisdom and quips set to music from experts ranging from Aristotle to recent mentors and novice teachers. Also included is a frequently updated array of DVDs featuring K-12 classroom episodes perfect for analysis of best practice and honing reflective questioning and feedback skills.

Scavenger Hunt Cards

These cards reference strategies explained in the books Why Didn't I Learn This in College? and Instruction for All Students. They can be used in scavenger hunt and sort card exercises.
